- Estimated gross monthly income

Why do you need my personal information for my credit card application?

We need your personal information for two reasons:

1. Federal law requires us to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. As a result, your personal information is required and used for identification purposes.
2. We use your personal information, like Social Security number, to pull your credit bureau data, which in turn is used with other information like monthly income to process your application.

Do I need to complete all the information on my credit card application?

Yes. We need all of the information to make an informed decision on a customer's credit worthiness and to assess risk.

Why can't I use a P.O. Box as an address on my credit card application?

We need a physical address in order to process your application.

Can I apply for a credit card with a co-applicant?

No, we do not offer the option for co-applicants at this time, but you may add an authorized user during the application process or any time after your account is opened.

How long does it take to decision my application?

In most cases, we will provide an instant decision. However, in some cases we need to collect additional information to make a decision which could take up to 30 days.

Do you share the contact information on my credit card application with other companies?

The Bank of Missouri and Continental Finance take our commitment to protecting your privacy seriously. Please see our Privacy Policy for more information.

Credit Protection

What is Credit Protection?

Credit Protection is an optional debt cancellation program offered with your credit card account.

What benefits does Credit Protection offer?

In the event of job loss or disability the Credit Protection Program covers up to twelve (12) continuous minimum monthly payments for the primary cardholder, one (1) minimum monthly payment for hospitalization and cancels the full balance in the event of death (the lesser of the outstanding account balance on the date of death or $5,000).

How do I request Program benefits?

You may visit our website <https://www.CPCustomerCare.com/> at any time for information about your program and benefits. Follow the instructions there to open your Benefit Activation and upload your information.

What are the requirements when requesting activation of Program benefits?

You must: a) qualify for the benefit based on the criteria in the Continental Credit Protection Program Contract and, b) complete and supply all verification information/forms requested.

How will the monthly Program charge be billed?

The monthly Program charge is billed to your account and will be shown on your monthly billing statement. The charge is based on your outstanding balance multiplied by $.99 per $100 of outstanding balance. As an example, if your balance is $200, your Credit Protection fee billed that month would be $1.98. And if your balance is less than $100, for example $70, the Credit Protection fee billed that month would be $.69 cents.

How soon after I enroll can I request benefits under this Program?

Your benefits begin immediately.

For job loss, disability, hospitalization and/or loss of life, you must be enrolled in the Continental Credit Protection program for 30 days before this Protected Event may be activated.

After I purchase the Program, can I cancel?

Yes. You may cancel at any time. Additionally, you can cancel within thirty (30) calendar days of your effective date, and your account will be credited for any Credit Protection charges billed.

How do I get a copy of my credit report?

What's the difference between a credit score and credit report?

Credit reports, also known as credit files, are composed of the credit-related data a credit reporting company (CRC) has gathered about consumers from different sources. Credit reports include records of mortgage payments, credit card balances, credit card payments, auto loan payments, and credit inquiries. It may also include public records, such as tax liens and other information from government sources.

A credit score is a three-digit number (derived using a mathematical formula) from all the information in your credit report. That mathematical formula is called a credit scoring model, which attempts to measure the likelihood that you may default on a loan payment, which is defined as being more than 90 days past due. Not all credit scores will be the same; nor will they remain the same. Credit scores may differ from one source to the next because different lenders use different credit scoring models. And since a score is based on frequently updated credit files, it may vary over time.

What do different credit scores mean?

VantageScore® 3.0 model uses a score range of 300 to 850. Regardless of the model's score range, higher scores indicate to lenders that you're a less risky borrower, while lower scores indicate that you're an increased risk.

How are credit scores calculated?

A credit score summarizes your credit report into variables. Your score is not physically a part of your credit report. It is calculated at the time a lender requested your credit report.

How can I improve my credit score?

- Pay your bills on time. How promptly you pay your bills has the strongest influence on your VantageScore® 3.0 credit score.
- Apply for credit only when you need it. Do not open too many accounts too frequently. And avoid opening multiple accounts within a short time span.
- Keep your outstanding balances low. A good rule of thumb? Keep balances below 30 percent of the credit limit on any account.
- Reduce your total debt. It is not necessarily bad to owe some money. But it is not good to owe too much money. Consider paying down some of your outstanding loans.
- Build up a credit history. Maintaining a timely payment history for a mix of accounts (e.g., credit cards, auto, mortgage) over a longer period can improve your score.

What is the difference between VantageScore® 3.0 and FICO® Score?

Both are types of credit scores, but there are differences:

- VantageScore® 3.0: Scores range from 300-850. Created by the nation's three major Credit Bureaus and used by some lenders to decision loans. Most influential factors include: payment history, age and type of credit, percentage of credit limit used and total debt.
- FICO® Score: Scores range from 300-850. Created by Fair Isaac Corporation and used by some lenders to decision loans. Most influential factors include: payment history, amounts owed and length of credit history.

Security and Privacy

What do we do to protect the personal information sent in my application over the Internet?

We are committed to providing secure Internet service through security and encryption technology. We use advanced encryption techniques, including Secure Socket Layer technology, to protect the information you provide to us over the Internet. You can tell that the session is secure when you see a locked padlock displayed at the bottom of most browser windows. Since all of the information being passed through this secured site is encrypted, only we can decipher the application information.

Can anyone other than the cardholder view statements or make bill payments?

Using the unique, secure log-in and password established at application, cardholders can enter the site, view their own account information and make payments on their own, individual account. For quality assurance, customer service or account maintenance purposes, Continental Finance Company, LLC and its employees and agents may also access your account information through this website.

What if my credit card gets lost or stolen?

If you have a missing credit card, report it immediately to our 24-hour Customer Service number located on the Contact Us page. This number is also printed on your monthly statements. We will cancel your card and send you a new one.

If my card is lost or stolen, how can I make sure that I don't get stuck with unauthorized charges on my bill?

You will not be liable for any unauthorized use that occurs after you notify us. You may, however, be liable for unauthorized use that occurs before your notice to us. In any case, your liability will not exceed $50. In New York, you will not be liable for unauthorized use of the Card that occurs prior to the Effective date. If you suspect your card has been stolen you should call us right away at the number shown on the Contact Us page.

What if I want to dispute a charge on my statement?

If you have a problem with the quality of property or services that you have purchased with your credit card; and you have tried in good faith to correct the problem with the merchant, call us at the number shown on the Contact Us page.
